

Save your history because...

"HISTORY LIVES"

Definition of an archivist:

An archivist is the preserver of records. An archivist assesses, collects, maintains, organizes and provides access and knowledge of records. In this case our federation history.

In addition... this archivist is....for lack of a better title.....your federation librarian because our records are now being put together as in a library, a research facility to be able to share what is the social history of Florida not found as a whole in many other places.

But..... we need your clubs to be a part of this. There are still many clubs both junior and general that do not or have not ever contributed their history to be a part of the archives.

All we can do is ask and keep asking. It is for the common good of this federation. So again PLEASE send us a copy of your history.

For those of you that do... this archivist thanks you, the historian thanks you, and future generations of women's club members, you and future members...authors...researchers of women's issues thank you as well. It is a fact that when the archives are found and people come to our headquarters to do research they are amazed and delighted at what they find.

And the archive committee work hard...there is so much preserving of materials that still need to be done.
