This year there will not be a Scrapbook Competition workshop at Spring Convention due to space constraints. The Guidelines are on the web site under Forms and Scrapbooking. I hope more of you will consider completing your scrapbooks in Digital format this year. Digital can save your club a lot of money, while still allowing you to present your club in a fun and creative way.

There has been a change in categories this year to resolve the issue of whether a book is multi-media or totally hand-made. This year there will only be two categories:

- (1) Traditional (Includes handmade elements and may have digital entries as well)
- (2) Digital (Totally digital creation and printing. It has no additional elements added to the printed page).

As we have presented in the past, a scrapbook is really an historical documentation of what your club has done in a given year. Clubs create scrapbooks for future members to see what the club did during the year. Clubs use photos, news articles, memorabilia from events and journaling to describe events to create unique historical records. Again this year we are asking that clubs further document their history by using a few more pages such as: Title pages, lists of International, State, District and Local officers, department chairs, as well as dates and participants in photos. More detail is provided in the Guidelines posted at www.gfwcflorida.org. To get to this area of the web site, pull up the home page, look to the left and scroll down and click on the section for FORMS. Scrapbook Competition is listed under "Reporting Awards, Contests".

All work in compiling the scrapbook must be done by club members and only one club year may be included. Your club name and club year must be on the cover and on the title page. None of the work in the scrapbook may have been entered in any other GFWC-FL contest such as the Art Contest in the spring. Your Scrapbook must be registered during the times and place designated in the Fall Board Schedule. All Scrapbooks MUST be picked up and signed for at the time listed in the Fall Board Schedule. GFWC-FL will not be responsible for scrapbooks not picked up on time.

Scrapbooks will be judged on artistic presentation, content, merit and completeness. Certificates of participation will be awarded for each entry. A point system has been created and judges will be giving points for each area of judging.

Please contact me at the above email address if you have any questions. Thank you for participating in the competition and creating a wonderful historical record for your clubs. We are very excited about these changes and look forward to seeing your creations at Fall Board.
