

Conservation Partnership Fall 2011

For those of you who take the summer off, welcome back! The conservation partners have not changed which means the two partners are Keep America Beautiful and The Humane Society. If you did a project last year with one of these organizations and liked it, then do it again this year. Easy! If you haven't done a project with these organizations, then look at their websites and find a way to help out, or just read below for some ideas. Also, don't forget to come to our workshop at Fall Board, we'll have a special treat for you!

Guess what? We are actually mentioned on The Humane Society website! I copied this directly from their website so you can click Ctrl and the link to go to the form:

Animal care/control organizations, humane agencies, and members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs should use the Adopt-a-Classroom order form to take advantage of special discounts.

If you would rather do a different project with The Humane Society, check out their website, www.humanesociety.org for more ideas.

Check out their website, www.kab.org to find a local chapter to get involved in. Their annual Coastal Clean Up (you don't have to actually be on the coast) is on September 17 so if you have club members who cannot attend Fall Board, they can clean up your community! There is another clean up in April so be sure to monitor their website for details.
